The screenshot shows the WordPress installation interface. At the top, the word "WordPress" is displayed in a blue serif font. Below this, a "Short description" states: "WordPress is a blogging software with a focus on ease of use, elegance, performance, and standards with a huge selection of themes and plugins." The "Homepage" is listed as <http://wordpress.org/>. A link for the "WordPress support forum" is provided, with a note that the user is not associated with it. The "New Installation (2.6.5)" option is highlighted with a red box and a red arrow pointing to it. Below this, the disk space requirements are shown: "Disk space required: 6.13 MB" and "Disk space available: 998.5 MB". The "Current installations" section shows "None".
